Form 5.7.

Reasons Behind a Non-Obsessional Conclusion

Contrasting Conclusion(s)

Abst	ract facts and ideas — Things that you know or believe to be true in general.
a.
b.
C.
Pers	onal experience — Your own personal experience, past or present
a.
b.
C.
Valu	es, standards and rules — The way of doing things according to an accepted principle.
a
b.
C.
Auth	orities — A person, institution or organization that is perceived as important.
Auth	orities — A person, institution or organization that is perceived as important.
a.
a.
a. b. c.	rsay and news — Information that you got from other people, substantiated or not.
a. b. c. Hea a. b.	rsay and news — Information that you got from other people, substantiated or not.
a. b. c. Hea	rsay and news — Information that you got from other people, substantiated or not.
a. b. c. Hea a. b.	rsay and news — Information that you got from other people, substantiated or not.
a. b. c. Hea a. b.	rsay and news — Information that you got from other people, substantiated or not.
a. b. c. Hea a. b.	rsay and news — Information that you got from other people, substantiated or not.
a. b. c. Hea a. b. c. Anyl	rsay and news — Information that you got from other people, substantiated or not.  thing else — Anything that does not fit well in the previous categories